Japan is a global leader in science and technology, and often a pioneer in bio-related inventions and products. Information on Japanese innovation is abundant, but mostly in Japanese. Window-to-Japan fills this information gap by analyzing Japanese-language professional resources in the field of the life sciences, biotechnology and biobusiness. Services include technology scouting, screening of putative partner companies or research groups, pre-marketing studies, IP-related investigations, and subscription to our database “Window-to-Japan/Biobusiness” which includes a newsticker.
