Creative future - the decisive step ahead.

Be part of the 13th Innovation Forum Medical Technology on October 21, 2021

Also in the field of medical technology the environment is becoming more and more complex. Processes and applications, technologies and systems are becoming more differentiated and can hardly be overlooked on their own. Keeping pace with these developments is a challenge – and yet only half the way. Real progress arises where the view already takes the next step.

At the Innovation Forum Medical Technology, you will discover what is and will be “state of the art” in medical technology. You will receive impulses from the keynotes and lectures from experts of research institutes and enterprises. Because tomorrow’s capital arises from today’s ideas. In the exhibition accompanying the forum groundbreaking solutions, products and services are presented. Numerous networking offers create platforms for direct exchange between science and business: today’s contact may be tomorrow’s partner.

During the lectures you will receive impulses to make existing things even better and to think new things.

What is it about?
