BioTechX Europe is Europe's largest congress covering diagnostics, precision medicine and digital transformation in pharmaceutical development and healthcare. Over the years we have fostered strong relationships with local partners such as the Canton of Basel, Novartis, Roche and various incubators to cover the full pipeline of drug development.

In 2023 our 3-day event will return to Basel, the pharma hub of Europe, this time with 3000 leaders in the field, 400 speakers and 100 start-ups all under one roof.

The BioTechX Europe Congress features speakers from the top 50 pharmaceutical companies, biotechs, healthcare systems and academic groups creating endless networking opportunities.

With 17 tracks of high level content, the agenda covers everything from the use and management of multiomic data to the development of personalised therapies as well as covering the actual generation of the data. The combo includes four sub brands, Biodata, Genomics Live, Cheminformatics Live and PharmAI.

At a time where biotech is taking off, we gather the leaders of biotech, pharma, fast-growing industry start-ups and established solution providers to give us an insight of where the industry is heading next.
