We're here to drive life science innovation by bringing startups and investors together. From early-stage ideas to scaling companies, we connect the people who make breakthroughs happen.

The Life Science Investors' Day 2025 takes place in one of Europe's top life science hubs—the Greater Heidelberg Region. It's where connections are made, deals are done, and the future of healthcare takes shape.

Registration for Life Science Investors

We bring together life science investors, startups from across Europe, and innovators from the Greater Heidelberg Region's thriving ecosystem. Expect sharp, focused pitches and plenty of room for real conversations—energized by great coffee and our artisan barista's finest creations.

We would be delighted to welcome you to the Life Science Investors' Day in Heidelberg. If you're an investor interested in therapeutics, diagnostics, or deep-tech digital health, this is the event for you.

Application for Life Science Startups

We'd love to see your life science startup on stage at the Life Science Investors' Day in Heidelberg!

Pitching is invite-only and starts with a simple application process. Selected startups will participate in an online test pitch before the event. Please note, all pitches are held live on stage in Heidelberg—there's no option for remote pitching.
