MedtecLIVE with T4M is where product developers and purchasing managers from distributors and OEMs come together with the leading suppliers of medical technology in Europe.

The event alternates between the two most important medical technology regions in Germany and covers the entire supply chain.

The trade fair is accompanied by a comprehensive supporting programme organised in partnership with national and international associations and clusters that reflects the most important issues and trends in the sector by their product range. The event is complemented by precisely curated digital services for exhibitors and visitors

MedtecLIVE with T<sub>4</sub>M – Where medical technology manufacturers meet

MedtecLIVE with T<sub>4</sub>M is Europe's leading trade fair for biomedical engineering and an important event for decision-makers in the medical technology industry.

The exhibition is a meeting point for forward-thinking experts presenting innovative processes for the production of medical technology. In addition to the latest processes, components, materials and services from along the entire supply chain, the event places special focus on face-to-face networking combined with the right digital services.

Start-Up Area @ MedtecLIVE with T<sub>4</sub>M 2023

The "Start-up Area" at MedtecLIVE with T<sub>4</sub>M from 23-25 May 2023 in Nuremberg offers plenty of space for start-ups: 30 start-ups have the opportunity to apply for free participation at Europe's meeting place for the medtech scene in southern Germany. Applications can be submitted from now until mid-February.
