In collaboration with the research center BrainLinks-BrainTools (BrainLinks-BrainTools) in Freiburg, Fraunhofer IPM organizes a workshop on the use of optically pumped magnetometers (OPM) for magnetoencephalography (MEG).

Monday, Dec 11, 2023, 6 p.m. Carl-Zeiss-Humboldt Lecture

presented by Svenja Knappe

(The lecture will be held in German)

Svenja Knappe has been awarded the 2023 Carl-Zeiss-Humboldt research award for her significant contributions in the fields of magnetometry and quantum sensing (Press release). She was nominated for the award by Karsten Buse from the University of Freiburg and from the Fraunhofer Institute for Physical Measurement Techniques IPM in Freiburg. The lecture will provide an accessible overview of her contributions and will be followed by a reception. Workshop participants are warmly invited to attend the event (Please, select the corresponding checkbox when registering).
